BRANCH OF LIBRAR

Much Progress Made, Citizens Are Told, in Move to Obtain Building.

VOTE TO BUY 34 FLAGS

Emblems to Be Given to Classrooms Now Lacking Them-Ask Resetting of Fence.

Marked progress in the movement obtain for Georgetown a branch of the Public Library, similar to the one recently opened for the benefit of residents of the southeast, was reported last night by Joseph Oliver, president of the Georgetown Citizens' Association, at a meeting of the association in Potomac Savings Bank sociation in Potomac Savings Bank hall.

Dr. George F. Bowerman will submit to the Georgetown citizens a "proposition" in this connection shortly, Mr. Oliver stated. Mr. Oliver explained that he and Frank P. Leetch, representing the association, had a conference with Dr. Bowerman not long ago and presented to him the urgency for a branch library in Georgetown. The public librarian, he said, was interested in the plea of the committee and assured the members that he would take up the matter with the board of trustees of the Public Library with a view to recommending to the Carnegie corporation the establishment of a branch library in Georgetown.

Must Travel Far.

Must Travel Far.

Mr. Oliver pointed out that at present boys, girls and adults of the community were compelled to use the central library building at 7th and K streets northwest, some twenty-five blocks away in order to satisfy their thirst for reading. A branch in Georgetown would obviate this necessity and would find ample patronage at all times, it was declared.

The association appropriated $20 to help defray the cost of the citizens' inquiry into the existence of a $5,000,000 surplus to the credit of the District in the Treasury.

A resolution opposing Blue Plains as a site for the proposed home for the feeble-minded was adopted, following reading of similar resolutions passed by the Monday Evening Club.

Vote to Buy Flags. Must Travel Far.

Vote to Buy Fings.

The association voted to purchase thiryt-four American flags to supply that number of public school classrooms in Georgetown, at present without any flags or with only makeshift ones.

A special committee was appointed to confer with authorities of the House of the Good Shepherd regarding the possibility of setting back from the road a high board fence, which obstructs the view of motorists as they approach 37th street from New Cut road. Accidents occur at this intersection almost daily, it was asserted.

at this intersection almost daily, it was asserted.

The organization also will request the police department to make 28th street between M street and Pennsylvania avenue a one-way street for north traffic. The church which stands at this corner limits the view of motorists emerging south from 28th street onto the Avenue, it was stated.

HACKER BAN TO LAST.

Chief Justice McCoy has signed an order making permanent the temporary injunction in force for several months against the independent hackers, which swarm about Union station.

The Washington Terminal Company brought suit against a number of the hackers and the court forbade the hackers from soliciting fares under the covered entrance to the station or upon the property of the company. Counsel for the hackers may note an appear.

Preceding an elaborate boxing and wrestling program, participated in by some of the best known amateurs in the east, Henry E. Stringer, president of the club, introduced Charles W. Semmes, chairman of the membership committee, who told briefly of the wonderful growth of the organization, and said at present the roster contained 1,700 names. Mr. Semmes said that this would be raised to 2,000, but that all desiring to enroll must do so before January f, when the books would be closed.

Harry (Honeyboy) Evans presided as announcer for the bouts, while P.

F. O'Connor acted as referee. During the evening Robert Lawerence, direc-tor of the Washington Music Associa-tion, led the large audience in several community songs. A buffet supper was served later in the large dining
